Manager Stallings Calls Feds' Cause Forlorn Hope--- W. A. Larned Shows Old Skill With Racket

STALLINGS SAYS FEDS LOSE IF THEY WIN

TOUGH ON MAJORS ALSO

Miller, Magee, Wingo and Griner Said to Be Ready to Leap to New League.

George T. Stallings, manager of the Boston Nationals, declares that the Federal League is on the verge of ruin. To the outlaw movement the Big Chief attributes the discouraging lack of interest in major league baseball to date. In the opinion of this shrewd student of the summer game the independent circuit is now attempting one last desperate throw for the stakes it has lost by trying to wean from the organization the principal stars of the habitual second division clubs. "Federal League agents have been very Federal League agents have been very busy in the West trying to lure away all National League players whose con-tracts embrace the ten days clause," said Stallings yesterday afternoon. "I believe the same tactics have been employed against the American League. Backers of the independent cause have been hooked already for thousands where they had at first intended to spend hundreds. They are willing to risk more money in the hope of retrieving what has been lost so

The Federal League is bound to lose wins. There is no room for three r leagues. With the talent available at the present evolution of baseball there are not enough good players for two leagues, let alone three. "If I were in control of organized base-

In the first place the two big leagues cannot afford to pay the high salaries forced onto them by the new born competition. A major league franchise to-day isn't worth a chew of to-bacco. It will not be for three years to come.

"New York is the only city that has a chance to make any money this season.

It has its own peculiar following and either of its teams has only to stay in the either of its teams has only to stay in the fight to be successful financially. Detroit has a chance to do well too if Jennings can keep his Tigers somewhere near the leaders. With Ty Cobb he has a grand road attraction. But I will bet that the world's champion Athletics lose a hundred thousand dollars before the world's earlier and company. world's series rolls round.
"The average major league club to-day is losing from $500 to $1,000 a week without reckoning on salary advances over former years. The major leagues have attracted treble the patronage of the Federal. You can see from that where Gilmore's colleagues get off. I found out in Chicago that the backers of the Federals there already have been parted from ten times what they originally planned to invest. It is the money behind such teams as this and the one in Brooklyn that has maintained the losing fight so far. It is only a question of time before such men will either have to pull out of the Federal League or go broke.

Boston will have to get along in the Brooklyn series without the services of Hub Perdue. This fellow, who is traded to the Giants every time an imaginative reporter is hard pressed for a topic, has been alling for some time. He was forced to take to his bed yesterday. FLAG WINNING TEAMS SHOW THEIR QUALITY Fine Baseball Played Here by Both Our Giants and Those Athletics.

MACK HAS STRONG ATTACK

Deluge of Double Headers This Week for the Three Local Clubs.

The Giants and Athletics were seen a their best in Greater New York last week Both played baseball in various departments as well as it is capable of being played, and if they could present that sort of ball with consistency there isn't any doubt that both would repeat for the pennant. All teams do dashing work at times and it is the team that can play high grade baseball most that wins Nevertheless the attacking ability shown by the two champions, the one at the Polo Grounds, the other in Brooklyn, was the best display of that sort seen in the greater city this year.

The Athletics didn't have the pitching Cincinnati, May 31.—Cincinnati jumped into second place this afternoon by virtue of their victory over Pittsburg in the first game of a double header and tying up the second, which was called at the end of the ninth inning on account of darkness. More than 30,000 persons saw the contests which were helly contested the contests which were helly contested. the contests, which were hotly contested throughout. The scores:

good as to be almost proof that their strength in that department is sufficient to win the pennant for them if they get the pitching. The latter just at present owing to the uncertainty in form of sev-eral of Mack's young boxmen is a con-

Not that the attack of the Athletics is any more varied or shrewdly manouvred than that of the Washingtons, a versatile team in offence, but with the greater bat-ting strength of the Athletics there was last week a confident poise in carrying *Batted for Gibson in the ninth inning. the sort of ball which won the pennant for them last year so far as offence is concerned. They are playing as if just getting to the top of their form. What difference from their early spring work! At that time they played more like a team in the middle of spring training than one engaged in a pennant fight.

This week the Washingtons will be at the Polo Grounds and there will be a chance to compare another pennant hope-ful with the possessors of the trophy. Griff has a smart ball club too and is strong for the speedy, aggressive, keep the other side guessing tactics of which he and Mack and McGraw are the leading exponents. For that matter these tactics appeal to all managers, but with a great difference in the results obtained, that depending on the material and the manager. The Athletics and Washingtons have ied the Detroits into the background but the latter team is a long way from out of it. With its pitchers and with Cobb back it is capable of another spurt.

Local baseball will be deluged with double headers this week. The New York Americans play two more games with the Athletics this afternoon, making six bat-tles in three consecutive playing days, and probably there will be a double header or two with the Washingtons. The Glants will play six games in four days in Philadelphia, and at Ebbets Field the Bostons play the Dodgers twice to-day and twice

Yet it has succeeded in injuring organized baseball by detracting some attention from it and by forcing ridiculously heavy salaries upon the men who built up the game."

pions have played only nine of their thirty-two games at home. Not that this brightens their prospects appreciably, for they are as good a road team as they are at home, maybe a shade better, but they aren't so bad at home, and in any event a month's absence from hotels and sleeping cars will freshen them up for the nex road trip. Besides the home folks want

The batting slump of the New York Americans has forced Manager Chance to experiment in the way of rearranging what material he has. His latest move is to put Walsh in centre field, with Cook in right and Hartzell in left. Walsh sup-plants Holden, whose hitting fell off until it was no better than Walsh's had been. Walsh is a better fielder and base runner than Holden, and the point is whether he will bat better now that he is away from the sun field. Cook of course will stick at the rate he is hitting. He and Hartzell and Truesdale at least aren't in the batting doldrums.

PERTH AMBOY, May 31.—After watching Outfielder Charles Meara hit the ball over the right field fence for two home runs here this afternoon, Scout Arthur Irwin of the New York Americans purchased Meara's release from the Perth Amboy Club of the Atlantic League. The player will report to ? anager Chance at the Polo Grounds to-morrow. Meara is a New York boy who formerly played with Manhattan College and lives in Kingsbridge.

Since the opening of the Atlantic League season Meara has batted all pitchers alike, getting a total of twenty-four hits, five of which were homers, in eleven games. Meara has been at bat 42 times and has scored 14 runs. In addition to his five home runs he has hit in Kingsbridge. for four triples and one double.

The Reds may stick up there if they can stand all the praise they are getting. Last week was a grievous one for the Pirates. They started out with a win, then took a beating in their next five games. Truesdale made a play in the Memorial Day jousts which was a hummer. He raced in on the grass for an infield grounder, scooped it between the box and first base and retired the runner with a quick backward toss without having time to turn his bedy. SECOND GAME.

NAME DATE FOR MATCH RACE. Peter Pan IV. and Aukle Deep t Match Speed June 27.

James Simpson, owner of Peter Pan VI., and Count Mankowski, owner of the Ankle Deep, have agreed on the course and conditions and dates for the match races between these two high speed boats. The first race will be on the Hudson River off Croton Point and will be managed by the Columbia Yacht Club. This course is selected because it is thought to be far enough up the river to be out of the way of driftwood that makes motor boat racof driftwood that makes motor boat rac-ing near here so dangerous. The course is to be thirty miles long and the first race will be started at 3 o'clock on Saturday, June 27.

The second race of the series will be held on Lake George after the races for the Gold Challenge cup have been held. If a third race is necessary it will be over the Huntington course and will be held the latter part of August.

Rigler No Pittsburg Favorite.

Pittsburg, May 31.—President John K. Tener of the National League is to be petitioned to keep Umpire Charles Rigier away from Forbes Field. The plan is to get as many signatures to the petition as possible before it is sent to headquarters. This is practically an unheard of proceeding in a major league city. Schuyler Britton of St. Louis has made a similar

ECONOMICAL

The Studebaker light SIX was three years old before the public was able to buy it. We experimented at our own cost.

The Studebaker SIX has the largest proportion of manufac-tured parts.

They have been so heat treated by strictly scientific methods that they are both lighter and immensely stronger.

Studebaker SIX standards demand that the front axle shall with-stand being twisted seven times upon itself without a crack. They demand that the rear axle shafts shall stand the same ter-They demand perfect alignment, perfect lubrication and perfect balance, to the end that friction and vibration shall be eliminated and long life promoted. But chiefly they demand that not one of the many economies arising from the lightness of the Studebaker SIX shall be purchased at sacrifice of strength or steadiness.

Send for the Studebaker Proof Book describing Studebaker manufacturing methods.
